

SERVSAFE 2009

ServSafe Essentials: The Short Course

This course was designed and is used by the National Restaurant Association Educational Foundation to train management-level food service employees in the principles of food safety.

REGISTRATION: Pre-registration and pre-payment are required. We need 5 students for a class by the registration deadline, one week before the class date. The cost for the managers' course is $100 and includes instruction, class materials, ServSafe Essentials, 5th edition with 2005 FDA Food Code updates, and the exam form. Books will be distributed at the class or you may pick them up. You may also, for an additional fee, have us ship them to you. Because of the concentrated information in this course, only those with some food safety background should consider attending. Cash, personal checks, and Visa and MasterCard are accepted.
